

6516205168.txt

Here's a valid reason to allow XM keep traffic and weather. I'm driving cross country and enter a city XM has traffic alerts for. I know which channel to turn to get that information. How would I know where to get traffic reports on local radio in a city I have never been to. Where do I find the all news channel travelling on an interstate at 65mph. Do you expect me to tune from station to station to find the traffic report. It is very valuable to be able to go channel xxx on XM and know I'm getting NYC traffic or Philadelphia or Los Angeles. When GM, Toyota, ect equip car radios that automatically seek out that cities all news channel then local radio will have a leg stand on. Please do not stop XM from providing such a needed service. Thank you.